LEARNING OUTCOMES

- Demonstrate understanding of typical language and communication milestones for toddlers aged 18-36 months.
- Design and implement a range of interactive activities that stimulate vocabulary expansion and sentence formation.
- Apply techniques to encourage active listening and turn-taking during conversations with toddlers.
- Analyze the role of the home environment in supporting language development and identify areas for improvement.
- Evaluate the effectiveness of activities in promoting communication skills and adapt them to individual toddler needs.
- Implement strategies to involve family members in supporting the toddler's language development journey.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

- This course is designed for parents, nannies, childminders, and early childhood development practitioners who care for toddlers in a home setting.
- It is also suitable for anyone seeking to enhance their ability to support early language acquisition in young children.

COURSE OUTLINE

Day 1: Enhancing Language and Communication Development of Toddlers in the Home

- Overview of toddler language development milestones (receptive and expressive language).
- Key principles of language acquisition: interaction, repetition, and scaffolding.
- Designing activities: storytelling, singing, rhyming, and conversational turn-taking.
- Creating a language-rich environment: labeling objects, reading corners, and limiting screen time.
- Using everyday routines (mealtimes, bath time, play) as language learning opportunities.
- Techniques for encouraging verbal expression: open-ended questions, expansion, and modeling.
- Adapting activities for toddlers with diverse needs, including those with speech delays.
- Observation and documentation methods to track progress and inform future planning.
